

Introduction

Fifty years have passed since Zanok, the only son of King Garath, recovered the Golden Orb and put to flight the Ghosts and Hobgoblins that were terrorising the people of Altoris. Now, once again, Altoris is under attack but this time you have been chosen to go forth into battle against the evil Lord of the Hobgoblins and his vicious creations. If you enjoyed Hobgoblin, this game is a must!

The Game

The Land of Altoris is once again under attack from the vicious Hobgoblins and their creations that roam the dense woods and foul smelling swamps that surround you. Since Zanok recovered the Golden Orb fifty years ago, the people of Altoris have lived in relative peace but now that peace is shattered. The Golden Orb is no longer powerful enough to protect against the ravages of the deadly creations brought to life by the evil Lord of the Hobgoblins.

As the son of Zanok and heir to the throne of Altoris you, Toraz, must go forth and do battle with the Lord of the Hobgoblins and his deadly protectors.

Over the years many weapons have been secreted in the woods, for it was written that this day would come. Use them wisely. As the son of Zanok, your courage is not in doubt but all of your skill and cunning will be needed if you are to succeed against this most terrifying foe.

Good Luck!
