

PLAYING THE GAME

You must collect all the Sulphur drums from each level of the extraction platform in turn.

You will have to travel the pipeline and use detonators and even Space Burgers.

When you have collected all the drums from a platform you must then pick up the small control robot, allowing you to to move on to the next platform.

But beware the control robot is programmed to destroy its platform and you with it.

Having picked up the robot you must move away quickly until the destruct sequence is initiated.
